

Around the Greens

Mount Osmond Golf Club, Adelaide, Australia

For members who planning to go down under, CGC has concluded a reciprocal arrangement with Mount Osmond Golf Club, Adelaide, Australia. Only 15 minutes from the centre of the CBD, Mount Osmond Golf Club is blessed with the glorious views of the city of Adelaide, the Mount Lofty Ranges and blue coastline. The challenging 18-hole golf course is located up on the Adelaide hills. The wide undulating fairways, challenging greens and stimulating course layout will always make a memorable round.

Before you go, check details with the Golfing office.

H&F Updates

Litter

Some members have been using the flower pots as disposal bins for their cigarette butts. Please understand that by your action our staffs have to do additional work to clear the butts from the pots. Also you are contravening the Club's Bye-laws and NEA laws on not smoking at designated areas.

The club management is duty-bound to ensure that all members are entitled to a clean, litter-free and smoke-free environment.

Toilet Bowl

Eeeeeaaah... the toilet is so dirty! The toilet bowl is a facility to relieve and flush away body wastes and not a pot to dispose tons of rolled paper, tissue paper and sanitary items. Each time the toilet bowl is choked, productive man hours are wasted clearing the outlet. Be considerate and do not cause inconvenience to your fellow golfers.

Changi Open Flight Bookings

Every year we received late bookings for the Changi Open and sometimes we have to turn down specific requests for day and tee off times. It's not that we are stonewalled but there are many early birds on the waiting list. We practice a "first come first served" policy which is fair and transparent. So if you are the habitual latecomer remember time and tide wait for no one.

Musings of The Struggling Golfer

So.....an era has come and gone.

We got a new committee to serve the club across the next 2 years. Well, not entirely new but we certainly see some fresh faces and a comeback of a couple of members.

Heroes..everyone of them. Or just golfers who got hit in the head by a golf ball from an errant tee-off (likely mine).

You know. I bet this crazy “do all the damn work, but no one gives you thanks” job is something only heroes opt for. (or fools...but I like to its bravery instead).

But after all the big hoo-haa....the campaigning, the whiskeys and jugs of beer, what does it really mean for us at Changi Golf Club?

We now got a bunch of members volunteering their time and efforts to make this club a better place for all of us. We should look forward to a well maintained golf course, well managed restaurants and vendors, facilities and a clubhouse that is not in a shabby state, showers that work etc.

But then again, that's what we have had over the last many years, isn't it? Not to take what we have for granted, but isn't it time for us to take it to the next level?

With an extension till 2040, what's next for Changi Golf Club?

So again, we all look to these brave souls who have taken up the staves of office and volunteered to slave away for the betterment of this club. I say firstly, congratulations on getting the support and well wishes from the members. Now, can we look forward to some serious evolution of this golf course?

Really, it's has always been the go-to mindset that members like the way it has always been and will be reluctant to change. But then, everyone know this – change is the constant of evolution of life. Well, we have been given a new lease of life. Let's take that plunge into new oceans, suffer through the first icy shock of cold, unchartered waters. Then swim, sail, paddle together to chart a new course for all of us.

I really hope our new heroes remember this - YOU have the support of the members. YOU own the confidence we have given you to make this a better place. So take up the challenge and make this a great community.

Cheers.....

 Congratulations to the elected members and may you have a fruitful term.

New Beginning and Fresh Faces

India's general election – the world's largest in which 815 million people are eligible to vote – is staggered over five weeks. It's horse trading season!

Indonesia's general election – a total of 190 million registered voters are expected to cast their votes to elect representatives at the national level. This is a run-up to the presidential election.

Whoever wins, the next presidents of the two countries will have to attend to many issues; domestic as well as foreign issues.

Changi Golf Club's election is pale by comparison but elections are democratic processes where some incumbents have to make way for 'new blood' and new promises. Some nominees were nudged to stand while others had the passion to volunteer their time (and hard-earned money) for the club. Getting into the Management Committee is a serious consideration because sound and good policies from rational minds will make a successful term. Tea party candidates may just float in and out like butterflies. Having a good knowledge of the club's culture, members' needs and staff welfare are prerequisites I must add. The 'buddy system' is not recommended.

This brings me back to the words of an old and much respected member who lamented his observations that the club has started to form cliques. He recalled the old days of members serving the club with sincerity and integrity. Yes cliques exist and herd mentality can be found everywhere.

At Changi members have always kept faith with those who dared step forward to perform a 'thankless task'.

For those who are not involved with club affairs, come wander the Changi fairways and enjoy a good walk where iconic personalities have treaded and helped shaped Changi's history.

How the elected parties in India and Indonesia can bring about reforms and a better life for their people is left to be seen. After all, promises are made to be broken and political stamina will be tested.

Sport Cyclists

Loyang Avenue and the coastal road is a favorite haunt for the hundreds of weekend sport cyclists. Cycling is a healthy sport and over the past ten years many desk-bound workers have taken up this sport, bringing a big smile to the shops that are merchandising bicycles and accessories.

However with a large group of cyclist on narrow roads, motorists and public transport drivers have found them to be a nuisance. Take Loyang Avenue as an example, cyclists would be riding two or three abreast, thus taking up one lane. Buses have to chug-a-chug behind them as the outer lane is occupied by fast moving vehicles.

In the evening cyclists have to make themselves more conspicuous when on the road with fluorescent helmets, reflective attire and lightings. Until there are bicycles that glow in the dark, both cyclists and other road users must not take for granted their right of way when on the road.

I dread to think of the consequences should a cyclist accidentally rammed into other cyclists causing some cyclists to fall onto the outer lane of the road and onto the path of oncoming cars.

Changi members driving along Loyang Avenue have to take extra precaution to watch out for these weekend cyclists, especially the reckless ones who think they are on a Tour.

Jackpot Machines

Two new game machines will replace two non-performing machines for the enjoyment of our members.

CCTV at Karaoke Room

Two cameras have been installed in the karaoke room for more better management, safety and security of the premises.
